2. FORWARD

- Name: Callum Barlow
- Date of Birth: 17-08-1999 (26)
- Position: Forward / Striker
- Jersey Number: 9
- Current Club: Bognor Regis Town FC
- League: Isthmian League Division One South Central (Step 4)

Summary of Their Strengths and Playing Style

- Callum Barlow is a physical, mobile forward who combines strong box presence with 1v1 attacking ability and effective ball carrying. He is Bognor Regis Town FC's central striker and plays a consistent offensive role. His profile does fit a style that prioritizes an organized attack, more so in areas where work rate and off-ball movement are important.
- Callum is comfortable with linking play (2:07), ball carrying (close control/dribble) (3:06-3:11, and taking on defenders, thus great in 1v1s in the final third (3:30, 4:37-4:48). He has great off-ball work as he positions himself in goal-scoring areas and has awareness of timing to exploit space (1:33, 2:54). He is also well-aligned with the attacking line to stay available for play (5:07–5:10, 2(5:55)). Moreover, he is ready to compete physically and aerially (1:40, 2(2:57)). In general, Callum's can be characterized as a hybrid forward (mobile striker and poacher) that is involved in finishing and build-up plays.

Why He Is a Good Fit at Step 4 Level

- Callum is well-suited for Step 4 Football. The most obvious reason is that he is currently playing here and has performed greatly this season.
- Callum's work rate, physicality, and off-ball work are a great addition to the club. He is great in tight spaces, competes and wins duels, and is always in attacking areas, and can capitalize on chances created by Hayes and Yeading United, as they have been creating several, which they were unable to convert.
- Callum's ability to compete physically, link play, dribbling (carrying the ball over long distances), and heavy, active box presence proves he is a consistent attacking threat in a system and can easily position himself as a starting forward.

Physicality

- Strength: Great in physical duels as he is capable of holding defenders on the run (3:06–3:11).
- Contact play and balance: Maintains balance under pressure, and he is competitive in the contact situations (2(2:57)).
- Aerial duels: Can compete in aerial challenges successfully (1:40).
- Ball protecting: After winning the ball, he shields it before passing the ball or linking up play (2:07).

Technical Ability

- First Touch: He is comfortable receiving the ball under pressure, and this allows him to control and effectively advance the ball.
- Link Play — He combines with teammates well, helping him maintain possession and create threats in the final third (2:07).
- Hold-Up Play — He can retain the ball under pressure, and this does bring the other teammates to attack (3:06-3:11).
- Dribbling — Effective in 1v1 and he can take on defenders, creating goal-scoring opportunities (3:30, 4:37-4:48).

Mentality & Work Rate

- Work Rate: He offers a high work rate and is constantly involved in the game (4:18-4:25, 2(5:55)).
- Initiative: Insists on the ball, and willingly aims to participate (2(1:19)).
- Persistence: Responds positively to defensive pressure and does not stop competing (2(2:57)).
- Defensive Work: Contributes defensively from the front (2(2:57)).

Positioning & Movement

- Positioning: Always available as a passing option (2(5:55)).
- Space finding: Good at creating gaps between defensive lines (1:50, 2:54).
- His well-timed runs help him arrive at the attacking zones at the right time (1:33, 1:56).

Calum's Consistency

- Chance creation: Great at progressing the ball and providing possibilities through movement and personal action.
- Technical Execution: Usually maintains control and plays link-up quite well; finishing and decision-making are generally steady, but can be better under pressure.
- Effort & Work Rate: He is very active and full of energy, and this helps him offer the needed pressure on opponents. He rarely falls out of intensity.
- Positioning: He does position himself in the box, making him a reliable, available option for passes and crosses.
